

COVID-19 Vaccine Video Transcript

Health Canada has approved a number of COVID-19 vaccines.

Nova Scotia is currently using two: Pfizer-BioNTech and Moderna.

More vaccines continue to be developed and approved, which will increase the total number of vaccines available in Canada and Nova Scotia.

Each vaccine requires two doses. Time must pass between the first and second dose.

It is important you get both doses for maximum protection.

Extensive medical trials have determined these vaccines are safe to use. Health Canada continues to monitor vaccine administration to adjust their distribution as necessary.

Vaccines will be available to every Nova Scotia resident who wants one, including those without a Nova Scotia Health Card or permanent residency.

Each vaccine effectively prevents severe illness and hospitalization from COVID-19.

After two doses, all vaccines offer similar levels of protection from COVID-19.
